The right to information is implicitly guaranteed by the Constitution. However, with a view to set out a practical regime for securing information, the Indian Parliament enacted the Right to Information Act, 2005 and thus provided a powerful tool to the citizens to get information from the Government as a matter of right. This law is very comprehensive and covers almost all matters of governance and has the widest possible reach, being applicable to Government at all levels- Union, State and Local as well as recipients of government grants.

The basic object of the Right to Information Act is to empower the citizens, promote transparency and accountability in the working of the Government and make our democracy work for the people in real sense. The Act is a big step towards making the citizens informed about the activities of the Government.

The Act requires the Government authority to compile a handbook in easily comprehensible form and to update it from time to time under Section 4(1) b sub clauses i to xvii (17 Manuals).
