The metropolis accounts major portion of India’s international trade and government’s revenue, from being one of the foremost centers of education, science and technological research and advancement.

The Mumbai Metropolis has historic tradition of strong civic activism dedicated to the cause of a better life for all its citizens. And it’s the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC), hereafter called the “corporation”, the primary agency responsible for urban governance in Greater Mumbai.

BMC (The Authority) is one of the largest local self-governments in the Asian Continent. In observance of historic traditions of strong civic activism, with the change in time and living conditions to match with the urbanization, BMC has mainly focused in providing almost all kinds of engineering services viz, Hydraulics, storm water drain, sewerage, water supply projects, roads, bridges, solid waste management, and environmental services. Beside this, the BMC is also providing dedicated services in various segments such as Health, Primary Education as well as the construction and maintenance of Public Markets and Slaughter Houses.

20th Animal census by Government of India revealed presence of 55,082 animal population within the jurisdiction of Municipal Corporation of Greater Mumbai consisting of cattle, buffaloes, sheep/goats, donkeys, pigs, poultry and dogs. Further studies revealed presence of 35,572 pet dogs in Mumbai. Census of stray dogs conducted by BMC in the year 2014 revealed 95,172 stray dog population in Mumbai of which 69,239 were sterilized under Animal Birth Control Program and 25,933 dogs remained to be sterilized. Considering the breeding rate and litter size of dogs there may be around 1 lakh stray dogs and 70,000 - 80,000 pet dogs in Mumbai. Breeding a pedigree dog and selling their pups has now become a commercial business in Mumbai. This has led to an increase in pet dog population in Mumbai.
